

Mrs. Molina's 2nd grade class has been reading a book titled Flat Stanley. Stanley Lambchop is a boy that gets flattened by a bulletin board during the night and becomes paper thin. Neat things happen to him now that he is paper thin. He can travel to new and strange places, including out of state travels and trips he could never make before.

Mrs. Molina's class has made their own Flat Stanley and will send their paper thin Stanley by mail to someone who can take him on a tour of their city. Each student is to select someone who can take pictures of his travels or famous areas of their city. Flat Stanley will be from our very own Rio Hondo post office on October 5th. Flat Stanley will be missed by our class. We will anxiously await his return so we can find out everything Flat Stanley saw and experienced. We will keep Rio Hondo Elementary students and staff posted on his return back to our school. We hope Flat Stanley arrives to his destination safely. Mrs. Molina's class will keep track of all his travels on a large map at school. They will also study the region or area where Stanley arrives. Bon Voyage!!!
